Historical Notes

The Everett Lodge was the first building developed upon The Everett Resort Property, in 1896 and was originally known as "The Main Building". In 1910, The Main Building was expanded to include a small Dining Hall. Several changes to the building, including the addition of a commercial kitchen, occurred during the 1930's and 1940's and transformed the Lodge into a local Supper Club. The Everett Resort was the very first American Plan Resort built in the Eagle River area and remains listed on the National Register of Historical places.

The Everett Sunroom (formerly known as the Sun Parlor), was built in 1920 and originally functioned as The Everett Resort's Main Lobby and Office until 1951. The resort's front desk was originally located in the room near the fireplace and featured cubby holes for guest mail.
